

Helpful Volunteer Links

www.cervistech.com

CERVIS is the Volunteer Management System I use. Love it!

www.idealist.org/info/VolunteerMgmt/Career

Idea List is a good source of volunteer information but there is a fee to join.

www.volunteermatch.org

Good source for volunteers in your own area. Categories broken down into lots of sub-sections.

www.volunteer.gov

Federal government source for volunteer information. You may also want to use this site to promote the Presidential Volunteer Award. You may give your volunteers the info they need to qualify then they may work toward this goal.

www.globalvolunteernetwork.org

Global Volunteer Network, lots of ideas although they tend to wander sometimes.

www.energizeinc.com

This is one of the best sites for info for volunteer managers but there is a yearly fee. You may access a little information free, to access everything there is a fee. Worth it I think though.

I just found this looking for links for this page, but it looks pretty good to me.

This site is wonderful for non-profits which wish to run background checks. They are designed for non-profits and have great pricing.

www.mavanetwork.org

Finally, MAVA. I live in Texas but am a member of the Minnesota Association of Volunteer Administrators, does that say anything about the job they are doing?
